Thought for the week – Keep Smiling!

News Headlines - Cheeeeeessssee!

- The children have been having their photographs taken this week in school. They all looked super smart and very smiley! The company will send out the proofs for parents to select whether they want to purchase individual photographs. This is done through the company, not through school.*
- We have had some reading workshops this week in Reception for parents. These workshops have gone really well and we hope parents have found them useful in helping to set up reading accounts.*
- On Monday we had a Reflexions coffee morning – this was a coffee morning for parents to come along and talk to the staff from Reflexions about helping parents around the topic of mental health. Look out for the next coffee morning that we will be running in school*

Helping at home this week!

Spellings – Your child comes home with weekly spellings, please can we help children to learn their weekly spellings at home. It's really good to keep a list of the spellings and checking back regularly that children can still spell the words.
